Home Minister witnesses display of self-defence techniques by first batch of girl students being trained under KSRP

Mysuru, Sept. 28 (RKB& BCT)- At a time when crime rate in the city has been rising, especially crimes against women, safety and security of girls is a concern for the Police.

In a bid to empower adolescent girls with shielding techniques, Karnataka State Reserve Police (KSRP) Fifth Battalion has set out to impart self-defence training to help them defend their modesty in times of need.

The self-defence training is slated to be a month-long affair where easy and retainable techniques to defend oneself are taught. The KSRP trainers will also acquaint girls with several other significant self-defence techniques which involve using their arms, head and legs, daily-use objects like pencils, water bottles and bags to the best of their ability when needed.

Over 574 girls aged between 13 and 25 years from various schools in city including Adarsha School, Vani Vilasa School, Police Public School and Geetha School are being trained at present in the first batch which began on Aug. 31. This training will be a continuous affair with more batches.

The initiative was formally inaugurated and inspected by Home Minister Araga Jnanendra at KSRP Parade Grounds this morning in the presence of senior Police officers. In his address, he called upon the girl students to make use of the techniques in times of need and resist any advances. "Women are not gullible and this initiative will make them stronger and enable them to take on criminals boldly," he added.

Expressing confidence about the training, Pallavi of Police Public School told Star of Mysore that the training has given them much-needed confidence. "The training and techniques are simple and easy to understand. Once the techniques are used against any perpetrator, I am sure it will deter the criminal from attacking any girl," she said.

Additional Director General of Police (KSRP) Alok Kumar, IGP (Southern Range) Praveen Madhukar Pawar, City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta, KSRP Fifth Battalion Commandant R. Janardhan, Superintendent of Police R. Chethan, Additional SP Shivakumar and others were present.

It may be mentioned here that the then Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai (now CM) during his visit to Mysuru on July 14 to attend the Passing Out Parade of 35th batch probationary Dy.SPs and 43rd batch PSIs, had stated that the Police Department in coordination with the Department of Collegiate Education would impart training in self-defence for College students in order to prepare them both physically and mentally.

Classical Kannada Centre to remain in Mysuru: CIIL

Mysuru, Sept. 28 (BCT)- Mysuru-based Central Institute of Indian Languages (CIIL) has clarified that the Centre has no plans to either shift the Centre of Excellence for Studies in Classical Kannada (CESCK) presently housed at CIIL or merge the CESCK with Bharatiya Bhasha Vishwavidyalaya at Nagpur.

Reacting to a news item published in Star of Mysore on Sept. 23 under the title 'Classical Kannada Centre to be shifted out of Mysuru?' CIIL Public Relations Officer (PRO) Tariq Khan has stated, "the letter that this news item has quoted does not talk anything about the Bharatiya Bhasha Vishwavidyalaya. Rather, it concerns the actionable items of NEP 2020 on which CIIL, Mysuru and Central Institute of Classical Tamil (CICT), Chennai are advised to take action."

The PRO states, "The information concerning the proposal to set up Bharatiya Bhasha Vishwavidyalaya (BBV) at Nagpur is incorrect. No official communication is available regarding this. Also, there isn't any discussion about establishing BBV at Nagpur. The report assumes that the CESCK will be shifted out of Karnataka and established at Nagpur but there is no basis to draw this conclusion, especially in view of the fact that the four classical languages (Telugu, Kannada, Malayalam and Odia) that are functioning under CIIL are all placed in their respective States. The letter they are referring to does not talk anything about shifting the Classical Language Centres. Rather, it aims to strengthen them and expand their activities."

"The letter is particularly intended to set out the action items to ensure that all languages of India are strengthened following the goals of NEP 2020," the PRO has stated.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

ALL THE DARKNESS INSIDE COULD BE DIVINISED: Imagine how wonderful it would be to open ourselves to the darkness within, with a big heart, without fear, shame, guilt or self-hatred, welcoming it to speak to us. We can candidly and empathically ask that part why does it continue to be so angry, envious, vengeful, destructive, and so much in pain? As we continue to address with it with compassion and curiosity, it reveals itself completely and tells us where the pain is, what caused it and how can it be overcome.

Subsequently, this dark and difficult part gives up all resistance, inertia and opens itself to the probabilities of change, growth and unification. What follows is complete integration and alignment of the different parts of our being into a harmonious, luminous, truthful and meaningful whole.

Dog's 12-inch ears earn Guinness World Record

Oregon: An Oregon woman's black and tan coonhound earned a Guinness World Record when each of her ears was measured at 12.38 inches long.

Guinness said Lou, a 3-year-old canine belonging to Paige Olsen, officially has the longest ears on a dog (living).

Olsen said she always knew Lou's ears were "extravagantly long," but she only decided to measure them while sheltering in place during the COVID-19 pandemic. "Of course everyone wants to touch the ears, they're very easy to fall in love with with just one sighting," she said.

Olsen said Lou is also a competitor at dog shows and has earned titles from the American Kennel Club and Rally Obedience.

Closure of Saraswathi Theatre: Some thoughts

Sir,

It is yet another sad day for the heritage city in having lost one more cinema theatre — Saraswathi Theatre. Earlier with less population, the city had the distinction of having 16 theatres and now with ever-increase in the population, this number is dwindling. What a paradox !

Cinema-lovers, especially middle class people, have always enjoyed films sitting in the theatre than watching movies through any other media — a small affordable luxury, indeed! In fact this is one of the reasons why the city had the privilege of having good number of theatres.

Instead of encouraging these theatres to remain active especially in the present COVID pandemic situation, as per one version, the Government is showing a step-motherly attitude by levying Mysuru city theatre taxes 300 times more than what is levied in Bengaluru. This discrimination is quite unfair.

It is requested that our MP and MLAs step in immediately and see that not only the closed theatres are encouraged to re-open but that remaining ones do not vanish.

Alive citizens dead in voters' list !

Mysuru, Sept. 28 (RK&BCT)- Clean and error-free voter lists have not been achieved even after 75 years of Independence and the classic problem of 'ghosts' (dead person being mentioned alive), alive persons mentioned as dead and a lot of duplicate names pervade most large voter databases.

Voter lists are revised and prepared after spending crores of rupees periodically but still they are full of anomalies, leaving a lot of scope for fake voting. Lack of coordination between City Corporation and Revenue officials — responsible for issuing Death Certificates in urban and rural areas respectively — and the offices of Election Commission is said to be the reason behind the present anomaly in voters' list.

Staff engrossed in work at Election Branch in MCC Main Office today.

"Names are excluded in the voters' list only if the person submits the application in Form 7 format. It is not possible to declare a person dead if that person is alive. I will ask the Election Wing Officers to check such cases and identify when and how such errors have crept into the voters' list. Our Officers are already on the job of revising the voters list and when they come to houses, the residents must give authentic information and co-operate with us to rectify the errors."

— G. Lakshmikantha Reddy, Commissioner, Mysuru City Corporation

Bhat

Narrating his shocking experience of being declared as a dead person, Krishnamoorthi Bhat, a resident of Old Wood Yard Road at Hosabandikeri told Star of Mysore that on Sept. 25, two ladies visited his house and told him that they had come from Gopalaswamy Primary School and have been entrusted with the task of updating voters' list by Mysuru City Corporation (MCC).

"They showed me a memorandum from the Corporation mentioning the person by name Krishnamoorthi Bhat (that's me) has expired and they had come here to check and update the list. I was shocked and told them that I was Krishnamoorthi Bhat and I was standing in front of them," he said.

"I questioned the ladies who declared me dead and I told them that I had voted in the previous election too and how can a Corporation issue a memorandum that I am dead," he said. The ladies replied that they had come from the MCC to check the voters' list. "I hope all anomalies like living people being declared dead and dead people finding their names in the list will be rectified by the next elections," he added.

The root of this problem lies in how the Election Commission (EC) ensures voters are added just once to the list and how a voter that is deleted is not misused for a fake vote.

According to people in the know of things, the problem can be solved with a simple solution that is readily — Aadhaar. All Indian residents today possess an Aadhaar number that is guaranteed to be unique, thanks to its biometric identification. When the EC performs its function of checking for eligibility of a new voter and decides to add the person to the voters' list, that person's Aadhaar number can serve as a second-factor authentication of uniqueness, they explained.

Aadhaar has the ability to act as a second-factor check to remove duplicates and ghosts within the Election Commission database and this is a valid way of doing so. Voters are subjected to verification in the run-up to the elections by Booth-Level Officers (BLOs).

The BLOs will enquire and mark voters in three categories: Absent (A) - for those who do not stay in the area for the most part of the year, Shifted (S) - for those who have shifted out of the address on the electoral list, and Dead (D).

Bannur youth dies in Chikkaballapur Jail

- Family expresses doubts over his death, lodges complaint
- He was arrested in Kolkata model's murder case in B'luru

Mysuru, Sept. 28 (RK&KS)- A 24-year-old youth, who was arrested in the sensational Kolkata model's murder in Bengaluru and remanded to judicial custody, has died in Anakanur Jail in Chikkaballapur on Friday night.

The family members of the deceased youth, expressing doubts over his death, have lodged a complaint at Chikkaballapur Police Station.

The deceased youth is H.M. Nagesh, a native of Heggur village, Bannur hobli in T. Narasipur taluk of Mysuru district and was residing at Hegganahalli Cross in Bengaluru. He was driving a cab for a living and was also studying law at an evening college as he wanted to be a lawyer.

Nagesh, who was healthy, consumed dinner provided at the jail on Friday night and had vomited. Nagesh's relative Mahesh told SOM that the jail officials on Saturday at about 8.26 am informed them Nagesh had died at about 11.20 pm on Friday.

Mahesh said that on Friday evening, Nagesh had called his parents over the phone, informed them that he was healthy and had asked them to try getting him a bail. Pointing out that Nagesh died on the same night and the jail officials had not informed them till the next day morning.

Deceased H.M. Nagesh

Expressing doubts over Nagesh's death as all the inmates had consumed the same food prepared at the jail and it was only Nagesh who fell ill and died, Mahesh said that Nagesh's parents have lodged a complaint at Chikkaballapur Police Station demanding a thorough investigation and provide justice to them.

Nagesh's last rites were held at his native place Heggur village on Sunday afternoon.

About the case: A Kolkata woman was found brutally murdered near Kempegowda International Airport in Bengaluru and the body which was lying in a field, was found on July 31 by a local who had alerted the Police.

The victim was later identified as Pooja Singh (32), a model-cum-event manager from Kolkata.

Bagalur Police, who had registered a case, conducted investigation and had arrested Nagesh last month. He was produced before a Court, which had remanded him to judicial custody, following which he was lodged in Anakanur Jail in Chikkaballapur.

During the investigation, the Cops traced a unique identity number of the wristwatch which she had purchased online and also got details about the other branded items found on her person, her phone number and e-mail IDs. Her handbag, mobile phone and other belongings were missing from the spot. The staff at the hotel where she was staying had no information about the event she had attended.

A Police officer said that Police teams visited Delhi and Kolkata where they inquired about missing persons and stumbled upon a match at New Town Police Station in Kolkata.

Pooja's husband Soudeep De came to Bengaluru and identified the body. Once Pooja's identity was determined, the Cops learnt that she had booked a cab, which eventually led the Police to Nagesh.

Investigation revealed that Pooja had booked a cab on the evening of July 30 from Crescent Road in Kumara Park to a hotel in Parappana Agrahara through a mobile phone app.

The Officer said that Pooja had later called the driver separately and asked him to take her to the airport the next day. He agreed and she boarded the cab on Hosur Road at 4.15 am.

On noticing that she was asleep, Nagesh drove the cab to an isolated place and attacked her with a jack rod.

Pooja got off the cab and started running, but Nagesh chased her and stabbed her repeatedly, Police said and added that when she collapsed, he bludgeoned her to death.

Nagesh was finally nabbed from the taxi stand at the airport when he was about to start a trip.

Nanjangud Town Police, who have registered a case, has urged the kith and kin of the deceased, if any, to contact them on Ph: 08221-228383 or the District Police Control Room on Ph: 0821-2444800, according to a press release.

Cop assaulted for stopping youth from peeing in public

Mysuru, Sept. 28 (RK&BCT)- A Head Constable was assaulted by a youth for stopping him urinating near a park at Siddhartha Layout on Sunday night. The youth in question fled the spot in his car along with his accomplice after beating up the Policeman.

G.T. Murali

G.T. Murali, a Head Constable attached to the Nazarbad Police Station, was on night rounds when the incident occurred. He has been admitted to Gopala Gowda Shanthaveri Memorial Hospital.

As part of his night beat, Murali was moving in his patrol bike on the road near Siddharthanagar Skating Park where he found a youth urinating by the side of the park. Stopping his vehicle, Murali asked him not to dirty a public place. The youth stopped peeing and left the place in his car and had parked it at some distance.

Later at around 7.30 pm, Murali had parked his bike and was surveying the area when the youth came with another person in his car and assaulted Murali with an iron rod. He hit his head with force and Murali fell down in pain.

Learning about the incident, Nazarbad Inspector G.N. Srikanth and staff rushed to the spot and shifted Murali to the hospital. Murali told the Inspector that it was the same youth who was spotted passing urine near the Park.

As the Head Constable could not identify the make of the car, the Police are checking CCTV footage. A case of assault on a duty-bound officer in uniform has been registered.

N'gud temple demolition: Tahsildar transferred

Mysuru, Sept. 28- Nanjangud Tahsildar Mohankumari, who was in the centre of controversy over the razing of Huchhagani Mahadevamma Temple in Nanjangud taluk early this month, has been transferred by the Government. The transfer comes days after the Huchhagani Temple razing issue snowballed into a huge row, with the Opposition parties and Ruling party members alike targeting the Government.

Mohankumari

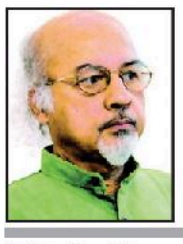
The Government, in an order passed on Monday, transferred Mohankumari as the Competent Authority in the IMA Scam case at Bengaluru.

Following Mohankumari's transfer, the Government is said to have directed the Mysuru Deputy Commissioner to appoint an in-charge for the post of Nanjangud Tahsildar.

It may be mentioned here that Mohankumari had become the target of political leaders and Hindu organisations for the razing down of Huchhagani Temple and had visited Suttur Mutt in Mysuru when former Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa visited the Mutt on Sept. 17.

After huge controversy broke out, subsequent to the razing down of the centuries old temple in Nanjangud earlier this month, Mohankumari had submitted a report to the Government on the issue, it is learnt.

Lessons to learn from Ayodhya



Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

The Ayodhya story is never old. The historical background, the personages involved, the tragedies and the triumphs associated with the city will always remain fresh in the minds of Indians. The main reason may be the religious dimension acquired through the story of Rama. But even without the religious link, Ayodhya has a certain fascination, or shall we say greatness, built into it.

This explains the continuing involvement of Rama in our everyday activities. This month the Bangalore International Centre is releasing a book, The Multivalence of an Epic, with "a historically informed discussion on the journey and localisation of the Ramayana across land and seas." Participating in the discussion are JNU Professor, H.S. Shiva Prakash, dancer Madhu Nataraj, European Studies specialist Neeta Inamdar, former Foreign Secretary Nirupama Rao, Delhi University Professor Parul Pandya Dhar and Hyderabad University's History Professor Suchandra Ghosh.

Three years ago Ayodhya: City of Faith, City of Discord by Valay Singh reminded us yet again about the unconquerable quality of the Ayodhya legend. In fact the number of books on Ayodhya is a pointer to the attention latter-day controversies have attracted. From Salman Khurshid's Sunrise Over Ayodhya: Nationhood in Our Times to Sarvepalli Gopal's The Anatomy of a Confrontation, books have examined the issue from all possible angles. The politics that showed an ugly face too has been examined in detail.

The title of the book written by Krishna Jha and Dhirendra Jha speaks for itself — Ayodhya, The Dark Night: The Secret History of Rama's Appearance in Babri Masjid.

Devotees acknowledge seven sacred cities, Sapta Puri, in India which must be visited if one were to attain moksha: Ayodhya, Mathura, Haridwar, Kasi, Kanchi, Avantika (Ujjain) and Dwaraka. There are more than 700 temples in Ayodhya. This may be seen as recognition of the city's special status. But it pales into insignificance when we realise that Varanasi has 20,000 temples, lending legitimacy to the claim that it is the country's spiritual capital.

It may be just one of seven, but Ayodhya has a certain sentimental appeal that is unrivalled. Rama, of course, is the primary factor here, but I am among those who feel that Ayodhya's identification with Dasaratha is just as important, if not more. Rama's pre-eminence is supreme, but that does not diminish the nobility of Dasaratha's character.

It is true that Dasaratha's story is essentially a tragedy. He killed Shravana by mistake. That did not make it easier for Shravana's old parents to accept the untimely loss of their only support in life. The unconsolable parents put on Dasaratha the curse that he, too, would suffer from the loss of his son. The curse worked. Dasaratha was unable to suffer the separation from Rama. He died a victim of sorrow.

Dasaratha's problems arose from his adherence to dharma which also underlined the greatness of his character. The Ramayana specialist Arshia Sattar makes the point that Kaikeyi, usually seen as villainous, was in fact "fulfilling her dharma as a mother by attempting to secure her son's future in a royal family that had three other contenders to kingship."

Perhaps it was a tactical mistake to build up a vision of Ram Rajya as a Utopia. Tulsidas popularised the idea of a country where all were happy, living without fear, grief or sickness. All wishes came true in Ram Rajya. It was a living metaphor of social harmony and ethical conduct.

It seemed natural that in such a land, power should go to a saffron-clad personage, the more so if he is officially described as a yogi. But how easily the grandiose yielded to the trivial. What the world saw under the yogi was an Ayodhya on the verge of ecological disaster. A Rs. 600-crore emergency plan had to be launched just for the cleaning of the Sarayu river.

Harishchandra and Raghu were kings of Ayodhya like Rama was. They renounced their kingdom to uphold dharma. Tulsidas saw the gardens of Ayodhya redolent with flowers and fruits. Mountains yielded gems and oceans never caused floods. Such orderliness of nature and established definitions of society ensured a thriving economy in Ram Rajya.

In our own times it was all reduced to a controversy that could not possibly have an amicable solution; should a temple rise on the holy spot or a mosque? Answers to the question could never rise above the religion of the individual who was asked. As poet Vayalar said: Man created religions. Religions created Gods. Religions and Gods joined hands to exploit the minds of humans.

'Protect trees from slow death'

Environmentalists call to halt practice of putting lights and using nails on trees

Mysuru, Sept. 28 (MTY&BCT)- The city is getting a bridal look for Dasara and this time, the State Government has approved 100 kms of illumination with an estimated cost of Rs. 5 crore.

While illumination increases the beauty of the city where circles, junctions, landmark buildings would be a cynosure of the eyes, it has upset the environmentalists as nails on trees would kill the trees eventually and destroy the nesting birds who prefer shady green trees.

Illumination involves lighting up trees too. Objecting to the practice, several environmentalists have asked the city administration to look into the matter and get the nails removed.

They said that trees have hundreds of nails hammered on them, along with many lights and strong LEDs of 500 watts and above which are hung over the trees.

"It is not just dangerous for the trees but it is cold-blooded murder of the birds and small insects that the tree houses. It is against the ecosystem. Sparrows are almost extinct and the squirrels and parrots will go extinct too," said Rajkumar D. Devaraj Urs, Chief of Wildlife Conservation Foundation.

"We should be doing everything in our power to save our heritage green cover and not allow ruthless assaults on trees. Nails for advertisements and illumination and many other such activities must be checked," he added.

The accumulated layers of threads and nails damage the bark of the tree and eventually cut off water flow by damaging underlying tissue in the bark. Even though the National Green Tribunal's 2013 order made it illegal to use trees to illuminate and display banners and advertisements, people continue to do so, as tree trunks form ubiquitous, cost-free canvases for advertising and display.

These nails tear holes into the nervous system of the tree, which reduces the tree's ability to manufacture food for itself, causing its lifespan to decrease. It also reduces the tree's oxygen-giving capacity, say green groups.

"When we drive a screw or nail into the bark of trees, we are exposing the extremely delicate cambium, xylem and phloem to bacteria, viruses, bugs and fungi. While a tree will most likely survive this wound, it isn't a great risk to take. This is especially true in the case of a young, new tree and an already diseased tree," another Botanist said.

Women have dispelled the notion of being a weaker gender, says Home Minister

Passing Out Parade of Women Civil Police Constables, 6th batch

M. Latha of Chamarajanagar, who was declared as the All Round Best Trainee, receiving the trophy from Home Minister Araga Jnanendra during the Passing Out Parade in city this morning. The Minister is flanked by Police Training School Mysuru Principal Dr. Dharanidevi Malagatti and ADGP (Training) P. Harishekaran.

Mysuru, Sept. 28 (RK&DM)- Maintaining that women have dispelled the notion that they are a weaker gender and have often proved that they are fully empowered through their success and achievements in almost all sectors, Home Minister Araga Jnanendra said that Women Police, who completed training, are also out to prove that they can safeguard the society, apart from protecting themselves.

He was speaking after receiving the Guard of Honour after inspecting the March-past at the Passing Out Parade (Peel-Off Parade) of the 6th batch of Women Civil Police Constables at the DAR Parade Grounds in Jyothinagar here this morning.

Pointing out that while Military will guard our country's borders, the responsibility of internal security of the country rests with the Police, Araga Jnanendra said that our Police force is capable of facing all challenges concerning internal security.

Stating that there is a general rule that 25 percent of the Police force must be women, he said that, however, at present the State Police force has only 10 percent women and the Government is working on considerably increasing the percentage.

Noting that more and more highly qualified women are joining the Police force in order to serve the society, Jnanendra said that criminals, miscreants, sexual predators and such other offenders should be scared of the Police and not law-abiding citizens.

Stressing on the need for people-friendly Policing, he said: "It is regretting to note that crimes against women and children are on the rise. Our Police are capable of tackling crimes against women and 36 Women Police Stations have been set up across the State for this purpose. As a measure for empowering women, self-defence training camps are being organised across the State. Also, it is proposed to set up six more FSLs (Forensic Science Laboratories) at different places in the State for gathering of clinching evidence in respect of crimes, especially those against women, when evidence gathering becomes a challenge for the Police".

Reiterating the need for the Police to follow people-friendly Policing, he warned errant Policemen of severe action if they deviated from their duties or misused powers.

Stating that a Helpline will be launched for lodging complaints against errant Policemen, the Home Minister said that aggrieved members of the public can call the State DGP or the concerned SP.

Highlighting the additional measures taken by the Government for ensuring the security of citizens in the wake of increasing crimes and offences, Jnanendra said that the Government has passed a Bill that makes online gambling a cognizable offence, while earlier it was a non-cognisable offence.

Asserting that Police Stations, Prisons and all other wings of the Police Department are being upgraded to meet the modern day requirements, with the nature of crimes, especially cyber crimes, becoming more complex and challenging with advancement of science and Technology, he said that it has been proposed to establish three more Police Training Centres in the State.

He further said that the Govt. was working on making Karnataka an addiction-free State (Vyasana Mukta Karnataka).

Jnanendra released 'Smruthi Sanchaya,' a Souvenir brought out by the city's Police Training School (PTS) on the occasion.

ADGP (Training) P. Harishekaran was the chief guest.

M. Latha of Chamarajangar district, who was declared as All Round Best Trainee, was the Parade Commander, while K. Ashwini of Mysuru district was the Deputy Parade Commander.

As many as 242 Probationary Women Civil Police candidates passed out at the Parade after completion of 8 months of Foundation Training at PTS, Mysuru.

PTS Mysuru Principal Dr. Dharanidevi Malagatti, IGP (Southern Range) Praveen Madhukar Pawar, KPA Director Vipul Kumar, City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta, Mysuru SP R. Chethan and other Police officials were present.

World Rabies Day today

3-day free anti-rabies vaccine drive begins at all Government Veterinary Hospitals

Pet owners getting their pets vaccinated at Hinkal Veterinary Hospital this morning. The drive was conducted by Chief Veterinary Officer Dr. S.M. Rajashekar and Veterinarian Dr. K.P. Naganna in the presence of former Panchayat Member and Animal Conservation President Nehanaina, former Vice-President Honappa, members K.G. Nagaraj, Ramesh, Venkatesh and others.

Mysuru, Sept. 28 (RKB&KS)- Marking World Rabies Day today, Department of Animal Husbandry has organised a 3-day free anti-rabies vaccination drive for pet dogs and cats at all Government Veterinary Hospitals in city and district from today.

World Rabies Day is held every year on Sept. 28. This date was chosen as it is the anniversary of the death of Louis Pasteur — the first person to successfully create a vaccine against rabies. This year's theme is 'Rabies: Facts, not Fear.'

Dr. B.N. Shadakshara Murthy, Dy. Director of the Department of Animal Husbandry, Mysuru, said that the free anti-rabies vaccine drive will be held for three days from today at 181 Government Veterinary Hospitals in the district including 11 in Mysuru city. There are seven Mobile Vet Dispensaries in the district, which are also administering anti-rabies vaccine, he said.

Pointing out that there are 18,000 pet and stray dogs in the district including 6,500 in city as per the 2020 census, he said that the dog census will be held once in five years and added that during the three-day anti-rabies vaccine drive 1ml of Anirab Vaccine is administered to pet dogs and cats besides stating that the anti-rabies vaccine for stray dogs and birth control measures are being undertaken by People For Animals (PFA) in association with Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) in city.

Lack of publicity: Due to lack of publicity about the free anti-rabies vaccine drive, almost all Government Veterinary Hospitals in city were empty as pet owners had no information about it.
